

Is a professional whose advanced degree is in psychology and is qualified to provide psychological services such as: comprehensive psychological evaluation and psychological diagnosis. Many psychologists have two roles, teaching and research.